

Overview

LCG Energy wants to change the reality of power and information asymmetries on both the energy markets and between big electricity providers and end consumers. The company aims to become the first electricity provider in the world to adopt blockchain technology in order to resolve the issue with the information asymmetries between consumers and electricity providers and bring full transparency to the industry.

The LCG Energy project creates a unique energy ecosystem. The fuel of the ecosystem, the LCG Token, will be usable for a wide array of services such as to cover electricity needs as a payment method, to provide investment options and access to energy related services and products in the ecosystem and many more.

By streamlining all of the consumption data through the Smart Meters developed by LCG Energy and with the help of smart contracts, the information about the power consumption and the prices at which the energy has been acquired will be made publicly available and will not be changeable by any entity.

People will no longer have to simply trust their electricity providers - they will have a solid proof of the exact amount of energy they have consumed and will be protected against overpricing by the supplier.
